Retreat Fee	The “hard cost” fee for attending the retreat will be between $1,000 and $1,200 depending on room selection and the number of attendees at the retreat. This fee covers your room and daily meals, and the costs of travel, room and board for the team of trainers and organizers.
Contribution to Trainers and Organizers	At the end of the retreat, you will have an opportunity to hear needs and requests from the team of trainers and organizers around compensation for the training and services they have provided, to reflect on your own needs and the value you received from the retreat, and to make a contribution to the team. A contribution from each participant between $1,000 and $1,500 depending on the number of attendees at the retreat would match what is typically received by a team at an International Intensive Training (IIT).
Application, Registration and Down Payment	This CALF retreat is intended for certification candidates. If you are wanting to attend and are not yet a certification candidate, contact a CALF trainer to clarify if we would support your participation. An application to attend the retreat will be available online at www.nvccalf.com by mid-February. After review, and upon acceptance of your application, registration and a down payment of $1,200 by April 1st will hold your spot at the retreat. We request a full “hard cost” down payment as our prepayment to the venue will bring down the costs for everyone.
Special Note to CNVC Certified Candidates	Although this CALF retreat is not an official CNVC International Intensive Training (IIT), it will fulfill the strong request that each CNVC certification candidate attend an IIT. Before registering, if your assessor is other than Michael or Sylvia, you may want to check with your assessor to see if he or she is in agreement.
Accessibility	Contact a CALF team member to insure your needs for handicapped accessibility will be met.
Retreat Language	The retreat will be conducted in English. It is important that participants have basic fluency in English.

The Candidates/Community Active Learning Forum (CALF) is a knowing, sharing and living adventure for being and becoming our authentic self through the process of Nonviolent Communication (NVC) for those on the path (or exploring the path) of CNVC Trainer Certification. Within this caring community, CALF team members and participants accompany one another on a journey of blossoming into the fullness of ourselves through exploration, self-empowerment, self-responsibility, and increasing our inner and outer resources. CALF is led by a seasoned team of CNVC assessors and trainers residing in Switzerland, Canada, Israel and the United States who speak German, French, Hebrew and English. We offer regular in-person retreats, online workshops and individual mentoring.
